

I believe my piece of art fits the contest's theme of "Fairness, Diversity, Equality." The scales are representing the scales of justice, also known as Lady Justice, which seek fairness and impartiality in the execution of the law. The hands of color illustrate equality. No color, culture, or gender symbolizes that one is greater than the other because everyone is equal. The flags displayed show our diverse world; and all the different countries and states that we can work with. These are the few reasons that I believe my piece of art addresses the "Justice for All" art contest.
